

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE GENERAL ANTHROPOLOGY MAJOR.

Foundation Courses to apply for the Major

To transfer in to the Anthropology major, students must complete ANT 110 and one of the following options:

- Option 1:* Statistics (STA 115, B- minimum)
- Option 2:* Statistical Inference (STA 215, C minimum)
- Option 3:* Introduction to Logic (PHL 120, B- minimum)

Core Courses (3 units)

Students must earn the grade minimum in prerequisite courses (as noted below) before they may register for these required core courses.

Introduction to Cultural Anthropology – ANT 110

A survey of the major concepts of social-cultural anthropology. Cross-cultural comparison will be a central concern of the course, as will the process of cultural change.

[Grade minimum: B-]

Development of Socio-cultural Theory – SOC 301

(Must be taken at TCNJ during Fall or Spring semester)

Prerequisite: ANT 110

The response of social theorists to the consequences of the industrial revolution and the issues of capitalism, secularism, industrialism, modern consciousness, and the socio-critical enterprise, as seen through the work of such theorists as Marx, Durkheim, and Weber. Contemporary development of these theories will also be discussed.

[Grade minimum: C]

Senior Capstone in Anthropology

(Must be taken at TCNJ during Fall or Spring semester)

Prerequisites: SOC 301, AND SOC 302 or Advanced Language or study abroad AND ANT 361 or ANT 390 or ANT 401

Choose one of the following options:

- Option 1:* Senior Capstone Research (ANT 493) [preceded by ANT 393 which counts as one of the ANT Department Options]
- Option 2:* Senior Seminar in Anthropology (ANT 398 & 499)—total of 1 unit

[Grade minimum: C-]

Second Subfield Introductory Course

Choose one of the following options:

- Option 1:* Introduction to Biological Anthropology (ANT 111)
- Option 2:* Introduction to Archaeology (ANT 112)
- Option 3:* Language and Culture (ANT 213)

[Grade minimum: B-]

Quantitative Methods Course OR Advanced Language Study

Choose one of the following options:

- Option 1:* Quantitative Research Methods (SOC 302)
- Option 2:* Advanced Language Study (200, 300, or 400 level)
- Option 3:* Study Abroad Experience

[Grade minimum: C]

Specialized Methods Course

Choose one of the following options:

- Option 1:* Research Course in Anthropology (ANT 390)
- Option 2:* Urban Ethnography (ANT 401)
- Option 3:* Human Osteology & Forensic Anthropology (ANT 361)
- Option 4:* Archaeological Field Methods (ANT 370)

[Grade minimum: C]

Department Options: (4 units)

Anthropology majors select 4 additional courses from our department offerings, with at least 3 selected from the 300 or 400 level. Current course offerings include (see bulletin or web page for complete list and descriptions):

- Intro to Biological Anthropology (ANT 111)
- Intro to Archaeology (ANT 112)
- Contemporary Japan (ANT 171)
- Language and Culture (ANT 213)
- Climate Justice & Social Action (ANT 246)
- Special Topics in Anthropology (ANT 270)
- Gender and Language (ANT 271/WGS 271/WLC 271)
- Human Evolution (ANT 305)
- Gender and Migration (ANT 311)
- Vampires, Werewolves, & Witches (ANT 313)
- Ethnicity, Race, and Nation (ANT 315)
- Global Urbanization (ANT 335)
- Food, Biology, and Culture (ANT 337)
- Social Change in Latin America (ANT 340)
- Environmental Anthropology (ANT 341)
- American Genocide & Indigenous Resurgence (ANT 355)
- Osteology & Forensic Anthropology (ANT 361)
- Topics in Anthropology (ANT 370)
- Culture, Health, and Illness (ANT/SOC 371)
- Research Course in Anthropology (ANT 390)
- Independent Study in Anthropology (ANT 391)
- Independent Research in Anthropology (ANT 393)
- Internship in Anthropology (ANT 399)
- Urban Ethnography (ANT 401)